

SLAV DRIVE CRUSHES

TEUTON EAST FRONT

Brusiloff Breaks Austrian Line at Three Places, Capturing 85,000 Prisoners.

Press westward toward the Gnila-Lipa river, which marks the Austrians' front. The final advance last September. This is evidenced by the enormous number of prisoners taken daily and by the immense amount of booty found strewn along the path of the retreating forces. About 85,000 Austrians have been captured since the Russian offensive began.

More than 30 miles of the most complicated Austrian defenses have been smashed to pieces, not counting the miles of enemy works wrecked at points where the front was broken. Many of these positions had been constructed by ten months of hard work, prisoners reported.

German Aid Little.

Exactly what the Germans will do to meet this new peril has not yet developed. They have renewed activity in the Smorgon region evidently to mask the transfer of troops to the aid of their allies.

Most of these men come from the Vilna and Lida sectors, but even these can be ill spared, as Kuropatkin's army on the Pivinsk front has been broken. Von Hindenburg's lines with increased strength in artillery—the fall of Dubus German prisoners were among those taken in the last two days.

One of the surprises of Brusiloff's forward movement was his amazing strength in artillery—he had 400 guns was the result. He is now four miles beyond Lutsk and menacing an important sector of Austrian territory.

During yesterday's fighting Petrograd reports the capture of 95 officers, 5,500 men, and 11 guns.

At many points on the Dvina front there were artillery duels. During the night of the 8th German bomb-throwing artillery was very active against different sectors of the Dvinsk positions. In the region of the village of Krevo, south of Smorgon, the Teutons attempted several times to approach the Russian trenches. They were driven back each time.

Belgian Motor Cars Used.

Belgian armored motor cars are rendering great aid to the czar's forces.

In view of the frantic efforts of the Crown Prince to take Verdun, and the sudden attack of the Austrians on the Italian position the time of this Russian drive is believed to have been nicely calculated.

A week ago yesterday the czar's offensive against the Austrians began along the southern part of the front. Its northern limit was the town of Pinsk, where the German front begins. A fortnight ago it was estimated that the German line from Pinsk north to the western shores of the Gulf of Riga was held by forty-eight divisions of infantry and ten of cavalry, about 1,200,000 men, and that this line was 400 miles long.

Lemberg Now Threatened.

A week ago the Austrian front extending south from Pinsk to and a little southeast of the Rumanian salient, was 235 miles long.

Since the offensive the Austrian front defended by 900,000 men has lost one-quarter of its total length. The advance not only threatens Lemberg in one sector, but Kovel as well and the southern salient between the Dniester and the Pruth not only tends to bind the Austrian line closer on top of Rumania, but its advance toward the Carpathians only forty miles away is a menace to the plains of Hungary. Expert British and Russian opinion is that the wedge driven beyond Lutsk may at any moment flank the German right and the Austrian left. Such an eventuality would obviously affect the entire Teutonic front and influence troop movements in places remote from the sector now active.

German Gain in West.

Reports from the western front indicate renewed German activity. The Berlin war office announces further progress northeast of Verdun, where ground has been gained southwest of Fort Douaumont, and west of Fort Vaux.

In taking a field work in the Vaux sector more than 500 men and twenty-two machine guns were captured by the Germans, who announce that since June 5 their captures have totaled more than 1,500 men.

Russian Troops Press

West From Trebizond

PETROGRAD, June 10.—Russian troops have dislodged the Turks from positions west of the Black Sea port of Trebizond, the war office announced tonight.

German Honor Foe.

LONDON, June 11.—Major Raynal, French defender of Fort Vaux, who was captured by the Germans, was permitted by the crown prince to retain his sword, and has been taken to Mainz, the Central News Amsterdam correspondent reports.

BREAK WITH MEXICO

NEAR, BORDER HEARS

Gavira Summoned to Mexico City for What Is Believed to Be War Council.

events than the Americans. Intense activity in Juarez followed the departure of General Gavira. Gen. Francisco Gonzales immediately took command of the troops on the border, and Col. Samuel Gonzales took command of the Juarez garrison.

Considerable excitement followed the change in the army officers at Juarez. Soldiers and subordinate officers alike appeared puzzled at the developments.

One report had it that General Gavira had been summoned to Mexico City to be court-martialed on the charge that he conferred with General Pershing relative to the movement of troops under his command without orders from his superior officers. This report was not credited generally.

It was announced at Juarez that Gavira would reach Mexico City in eight days. He is expected in Chihuahua today in time for another set demonstration against the presence of American troops in Mexico.

Several American refugees who arrived here yesterday from Chihuahua said that a parade of school children had been arranged for this afternoon. This demonstration is expected to develop into something serious, as the minds of the Mexicans have been so inflamed by anti-American literature and the complaisant attitude of the Mexican military authorities that violence against the Americans who still remain in Chihuahua is expected.

Mormons Fined.

When the Carranza authorities at the Mormon colony at Colonia Dublan recently ordered a Mormon merchant to accept Carranza currency at the rate of 20 cents on the peso, or 10 cents gold per peso, in payment for merchandise, the Mormons refused whereupon all the Mormons were told that they would be fined 50 pesos.

The Mormons tendered 500 pesos in Carranza currency in payment of the fine. The tender was indignantly refused by the Carranzistas, who stated they meant silver coin.

The American forces are not napping. General Pershing is rushing the work of building new roads from his American base to his Mexican base, including graveling, grading and bridge building.

In El Paso, a battery of heavy artillery has been stationed in the heart of the residence section of the city, and soldiers in half companies are scattered throughout the town. Everywhere there is an air of preparedness and expectancy on the part of the Americans.

De la Rosa in Conference

With Carranza Officials

SAN ANTONIO, June 11.—The bandit Luis de la Rosa, with 400 men, declared to be threatening the lower Texas border, is not either the Rio Grande at all, but is in Monterey conferring with Carranza officials.

Such is the information just brought here by a man in a civil capacity with the American Government. This man does not deny that a gang of bandits is along the border in the vicinity of Laredo.

The presence in Laredo, Texas, of Gen. Alfredo Ricart conferring with Gen. William A. Mann is a bluff. He is there to give an impression that the Carranzistas are co-operating with the American soldiers in shutting down banditry. At the same time de la Rosa is feasting with Carranza lieutenants and awaiting the day when he can come boldly north and fight.

Official information, but not military, says that Piedras Negras, opposite Eagle Pass, Texas, is placarded with calls on the Mexican populace to prepare for rising and resisting the invasion by Americans.

On the Texas militia troops, one battery of artillery remains here, and it is being issued horses rapidly for service.

Foreigners at Tampico

Fear Massacre, British Say

MOBILE, June 11.—Operations in the oil field near Tampico, have been suspended, foreigners of every nationality have been threatened with death by Carranza officers if found outside the city, and people are clamoring to leave the city. The Carranzistas are claiming to be a wholesale massacre, according to advice brought here by officers of the British yacht Yeakel, today.

The Carranzistas have left their places under threats of death.

At night foreigners so armed. Ten days ago employees of the Standard Oil Company left with the manager. They were beginning to drift back when the yacht left. A large number of refugees wanted passage on the Keokuk, but were refused, and they began making arrangements to take other vessels. Nearly all oil tankers leaving Mexico are carrying refugees.

ROOSEVELT'S DECLINATION

To the Progressive Convention:

I am very grateful for the honor you confer upon me by nominating me as President. I cannot accept it at this time. I do not know the attitude of the candidate of the Republican party toward the vital questions of the day.

Therefore, if you desire an immediate decision, I must decline the nomination. But, if you prefer it, I suggest that my conditional refusal to run be placed in the hands of the Progressive national committee. If Mr. Hughes' statements, when he makes them, shall satisfy the committee, that it is for the interest of the country that he be elected, they can act accordingly and treat my refusal as definitely accepted.

If they are not satisfied, they can so notify the Progressive party and at the same time they can confer with me and then determine on whatever action we may severally deem appropriate to meet the needs of the country.

THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

Gets $100 for Spanking He Got During Initiation

WASHINGTON, Pa., June 11.—Being spanked during an initiation with barrel staves between which dynamite caps were placed, with the result that he was under the care of a physician for days, is worth $100 to John Laus, of Manifold, near here, in the opinion of a jury that heard the evidence.

Laus was being introduced into the mysteries of the Order of Owls when the stunt was put on at his expense. Upon the advice of counsel he brought suit for damages.

Slav Onslaught Halts Austrian Attack on Italy

PARIS, June 10.—The Austrian offensive against the Italians has come to an abrupt halt, simultaneous with the Russian victories against the Austrians in Galicia and Volhynia. The belief prevails here that large Austrian forces have been detached from the Italian front to meet the Russian offensive. The official statement from the Italian war office tonight not only reports no further Austrian attacks, but claims progress for the Italians in the Trentino.

New Revolution Threatens Carranza's Rule in Mexico

The State Department has been advised officially of the outbreak of a new revolution in the Isthmus of Tehuantepec, Mexico.

The city of Tehuantepec, capital of the Isthmus, has been captured by the revolutionists. Salina Cruz, the seaport on the Pacific coast, is threatened with capture. A condition of anarchy is reported to exist in the entire Isthmus.

It is reported the gulf seaport of Puerto Mexico, may fall, and that the revolutionists may gain control of the Tehuantepec railroad.

There is no official news showing what interests are behind the revolution, but officials believe it is part of the Felix Diaz revolutionary movement.

The Isthmus of Tehuantepec adjoins the state of Oaxaca, on the south. This state never has recognized Carranza's administration. There were reports recently that Diaz was organizing a revolution there.

On top of these reports the State Department was advised that a state of anarchy exists in Saltillo, capital of the state of Coahuila, over which Carranza presided as governor before organizing his revolution.

Anti-American demonstrations are feared there similar to those in Durango, where the American consulate was burned, and the American flag dragged through the streets, and in Chihuahua City, where the consulate was stormed.

Reports of this new revolution in southern Mexico and of the growth of anti-American feeling in northern Mexico, together with threats of attack by Mexicans on General Pershing's army, have convinced officials that the Mexican situation is fast approaching a crisis.

Not only is actual conflict between the American and Mexican forces apparently nearer than it has been since the troops entered Mexico, but officials believe the new revolutionary movement may hasten the end of Carranza's rule in Mexico.

"Spank Spot That Mother Did," Edict to Teachers

WASHINGTON, Pa., June 11.—"Spank the spot that mother used to hit with the old hickory switch." This in so many words is the edict issued by the Washington school board as a result of numerous complaints of violence and at times brutal chastising of children in the schools which have been made by irate parents.
